great cause alert: dress donation.

Great cause alert...

Admit it: you've saved your prom dress. Maybe you wanted to keep it for your kids, maybe you thought you'd have a ball to attend one day. It's time to officially get rid of it.

Why, you ask?

So that you can donate it to DonateMyDress, an organization that hosts gown drives across the country so that you can share your old prom dress, bridesmaid dress, gown, or other formal fancies with less fortunate girls who can't afford a new dress for the most memorable night of their teenage lives.

Please consider looking into this for you, your girlfriend, your friends, your sisters, etc. It's a great way to pass your unused dresses on to an amazing cause.
